Wills & Legacies

If you'd like to leave a donation to SARAC in in your Will, we'd like to help you do so. Take a look at our resources in this document to find out more.

Leave a Legacy of Support: Remember SARAC in Your Will

Have you ever considered leaving a gift to charity in your Will? It's a powerful way to ensure your values live on and can have a lasting impact on the causes that matter most to you.

By including SARAC (Sexual Abuse Rape Advice Centre) in your Will, you're helping to provide vital, life-changing support to survivors of rape and sexual abuse across Staffordshire and Derbyshire – support that is free, confidential, and often life-saving.

Why Leave a Gift to SARAC?

Charitable bequests play a critical role in keeping many charities running. In fact:

- Cancer Research UK receives over a third of its donations through Wills
- Over half of the RSPCA's work is funded through legacy gifts

Even a small percentage of your estate could make a big difference to SARAC's ability to support survivors and advocate for change in the long term.

Tax Benefits of Leaving a Legacy

Leaving a gift to a UK-registered charity like SARAC in your Will can also reduce Inheritance Tax (IHT):

- Gifts to charity are exempt from IHT, reducing the taxable value of your estate
- If you leave 10% or more of your net estate to charity, the IHT rate on the rest may fall from 40% to 36%

It's a meaningful way to make a difference and protect more of your estate for the people and causes you care about.

Meet Broghan

Hi, I'm Broghan – a professional Will writer and estate planner, and a proud Member of the Society of Will Writers. I specialise in making the Will-writing process as easy, approachable, and stress-free as possible.

I understand that talking about Wills, trusts, and planning for the future can sometimes feel overwhelming or uncomfortable. That's why I take the time to listen, explain everything in plain English, and work with you to make sure your wishes are fully understood and clearly documented. Whether you need help with your Will, Lasting Powers of Attorney, setting up a trust, or dealing with probate, I'm here to guide you with compassion, confidentiality, and care.

I'm proud to be working in partnership with SARAC to help raise awareness and encourage legacy giving as a way to make a lasting difference.

A Proud Partnership with SARAC

I've teamed up with SARAC because I believe in the vital work they do.

For every Will written through a referral from SARAC, I will donate 10% of the fee back to the charity.

You can include a gift to SARAC in your Will, or ask for donations to SARAC in lieu of flowers at your funeral – I'll help you include this in your funeral wishes.

Whatever you might need, I'm here to help.

Compassionate, Straightforward Legal Support

Writing a Will doesn't need to be difficult or stressful. Broghan takes pride in making the process simple, comfortable, and completely tailored to you.

When you work with Broghan:

- You receive a friendly, confidential service
- She explains everything in plain English – no jargon
- She takes the time to understand your wishes and remove the pressure
- Everything is handled with care, empathy, and attention to detail

As a Member of the Society of Will Writers, you can trust that you're in safe and experienced hands.

More Than Just Wills

In addition to Will writing, Broghan can also help you with:

- Lasting Powers of Attorney – to ensure your wishes are respected if you lose capacity
- Trusts – to protect assets and provide flexibility for future generations
- Probate and estate administration – taking the weight off your family during a difficult time
- And much more – always tailored, always personal

Let's Build a Legacy That Reflects You
